Maternity Hospital Bag Checklist - What to Pack

PREGNANCY - COMMON SYMPTOMS AND CARE TIPS

ARTICLE

JUN 7, 2022

The arrival of your new son or daughter is a time of great joy and excitement. It is often a hectic time, making it difficult to remember to pack everything you will need at the hospital. Make use of this maternity bag checklist as a guide to get ready for the big event.

PREPARE YOUR BAG FOR LABOR.

• The arrival of your new son or daughter is a time of great joy and excitement. It is often a hectic time, making it difficult to remember to pack everything you will need at the hospital. Make use of this checklist as a guide to get ready for the big event.

When should I start packing my hospital bag for the birth?

• You are free to begin packing whenever you want. However, you should have your bag ready at least two weeks before your due date.

What should I put in my hospital bag for labor?

• Pack the following items for yourself<sup>1</sup>

- your birth plan, as well as your hospital notes
- something loose and comfortable to wear during labor that does not restrict movement or make you overheated
- 3 sets of loose, comfortable clothing
- 2 or 3 comfortable and supportive bras, including nursing bras if you intend to breastfeed – keep in mind that your breasts will be much larger than normal
- breast pads
- 2 super-absorbent sanitary or maternity pads
- 5 or 6 pairs of knickers – you may want to bring some spares
- your washbag with a toothbrush, a hairbrush, a fannel, soap, lip balm, deodorant, hair ties, and other toiletries.
- Towels
- books, magazines, music, or podcasts can all help you pass the time and relax.
- a fan or a water spray to keep you cool
- if you plan to breastfeed, wear front-opening or loose-fitting nightgowns or tops.
- slippers and a dressing gown
- healthy snacks and beverages

What should I pack for my new baby's hospital bag?<sup>2</sup>

• You might want to pack the following items for the baby:

- vests, bodysuits, and sleepsuits
- an outfit for going home in
- a hat, scratch mittens, socks, and booties
- a lot of nappies
- a blanket or shawl
- muslin bibs or squares
- a car seat for the trip home

What should my birth partner bring with them to the hospital?

• Your birth partner may be in the hospital with you for an extended period of time, or even overnight, so they will need to pack a bag as well.

They should consider packing:

- snacks
- cash
- a change of clothes
- a wash bag
- Music that mum can listen to, if you're relaxing in the early stages.

TRANSPORT<sup>2</sup>

- ✓ Because you may need to go to the hospital at any time of day or night, you should plan how you'll get there.
- ✓ If you're going by car, make sure it's in good working order and that there's always enough gas in the tank.
- ✓ If someone else has said they'll take you, have a backup plan just in case they don't show up.

PREPARE YOURSELF<sup>2</sup>

- ✓ You won't want to do much more than relax and care for your baby when you get home, so plan ahead as much as you can.
- ✓ If possible, stock up on essentials like toilet paper, sanitary towels, and diapers ahead of time.
- ✓ You might prepare some meals ahead of time and store them if you have a freezer.
