MONTH 01

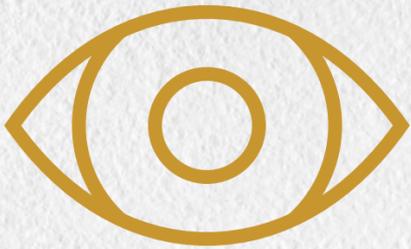

“I will be following moving objects and surroundings with my eyes”

My Little Arms will start to thrust

I will bring MY HANDS within the range of my eyes and mouth

While lying down I will try to move my head from side to side

My eyes may wander and occasionally cross

I will prefer to look at black-and-white or high-contrast patterns

My eyes are following shapes and responds to loud sounds (recognizes some sounds)

Lucky you, I may react to familiar voices and sounds

Wow my hearing is fully mature!

MONTH 01

Naturally, I recognize the scent of your breast milk

Soft-to-coarse sensations grab my attention now

But I really don't like rough or abrupt handling

"Something smells good" – I am learning to like sweet smells
